Potential power outages may affect Seattle schools

The region's severe wind storm may cause power outages throughout the Puget Sound area, potentially affecting Seattle schools. Any storm impacts on our schools will be assessed early on Friday morning, and decisions made at that time about school closures. Closure decisions will be made with student and staff safety in mind. If a school is without power, it will be closed for the day.

Parents, guardians and families are advised to listen to regular television and radio reports, go on-line to www.seattleschools.org or www.schoolreport.org, or call the Seattle Public Schools news and information line at (206) 252-0207.
