Concord Elementary School and Denny Middle School celebrate their international designation on Tuesday, March 3

Seattle - On Tuesday, March 3, Concord Elementary and Denny Middle School celebrate their new designation as International Schools, becoming the third international elementary school and second international middle school, respectively, in Seattle Public Schools. The international education program integrates global perspectives into daily learning, with an emphasis on multicultural literature, world economics, global health and arts, music, dance and drama from around the world.

Students will also learn about a variety of cultures and countries using an international social studies curriculum that explores current challenges and issues facing the world community. The mission of the international education program is to educate and prepare all students with the cultural competence and skills necessary to achieve in a global community and economy.

Speakers for the media event include Superintendent Maria L. Goodloe-Johnson, Ph.D., School Board Director Steve Sundquist, Concord Principal Sandra Scott and Denny Principal Jeff Clark. Members of the media will visit a math class taught in Spanish, then view special performances by Denny Middle School's steel drum band, a multilingual welcome by students, speeches by select guests and a dance performance by Concord students.
