

2008-2009 Special Education Parent Preference Form

Your child's assignment to a school building is completed by centrally based Special Education. This assignment is based on the service delivery model identified at the IEP team meeting and the three primary factors of:

1. distance from your home to the school building housing the program,
2. the capacity within a program for accepting new students, and
3. when appropriate, sibling assignment.

Much like the process related to our oversubscribed schools, the process related to special education assignment to specialty programs involves the primary consideration of where you live and the available capacity within the program closest to your home. Under most circumstances, assignments will be to a school closest to where you live. This practice aligns with current state and federal special education laws that require the District to serve students as close as possible to where they reside.

School assignment decisions take place in March at the same time as general education students receive their school assignments.
