# 328 I Speak Soccer T-shirt & DVD Value $20

One children's shirt and one DVD of Kindergarten Teacher Terry Kegel's documentary of the movie "I Speak Soccer". "Soccer is the world's most popular game. It's also the most photogenic. Yet, 99% of the world's players never get their picture taken...It's their turn! Join American Terry Kegel as he embarks on a world-wide tour of pickup soccer. Unlike professional or amateur league games, pickup is an unofficial, public, and self-defined version of sport. Without a referee to enforce internationally standardized rules, players create their own structure and style, which are influenced by their cultural and physical environment. Discover the power of this informal play as both an honest reflection of our diversity and an inspiring force in community-building. A deeply personal journey, shot over four years on six continents, this award-winning film is a cultural and linguistic whirlwind, and a beautiful tribute to the true heroes of the game! For more information, visit the film's website: www.ispeaksoccer.com."

The early music of Madonna, the temporary music of Wham, and the less than music of Miliviniilli will take you back to the times of cheesy tuxedos, hideous prom dresses and gravity defying hair for a night to remember. Don't be a McFly and miss the boat the second time around, this is your chance to live your dream and become king or queen of our 80's prom. This is a BYOB event...just like in high school. When was the last time you were on an old bus in Central America, winding along a dirt road being jarred back and forth, sucking chicken feathers up your nose? Remember that? Would you go back just for that - the food? No. Of course not. And you don't have to, because Mary Brodahl (aka Nina Maria) will come into your home and bring all those wonderful tastes and smells of Central American cooking and provide a great dinner for 10 people.
