

July 2019

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
	1	2	3	4	5	6
Set a goal for your reading this week.	Choose a book that is your favorite!	Read a nonfiction book today. What new information did you learn?	Reread your book. Can you retell it? Stop often to check your understanding.	Read to someone today. If no one is home, read to a stuffed animal.	What is something you were wondering about as you read today? Share it with someone.	Read a book that has a female character. Did you meet your goal for the week?
7	8	9	10	11	12	13
Set a goal for your reading this week.	What was your favorite part of a book you read today? What makes it your favorite?	Read a fiction book. Pretend to be one of the characters as you read.	Read a nonfiction book, think about what you learned and tell someone about it.	What questions did you have as you were reading today?	Read a fiction book. What words could you use to describe the main character?	Read a book that has a male character. Did you meet your goal for the week?
14	15	16	17	18	19	20
Set a goal for your reading this week.	Read a fiction book – do you have any text-to-self connections?	Read a nonfiction book. Find a text feature and think about how it helps you learn more about the topic.	Choose a fiction book and retell it to someone. Can you remember all of the main parts?	Re-read a favorite book. Can you make your reading sound smooth?	Read a nonfiction book. What are some main ideas of this book? Find evidence to support your idea.	Read to a family member today. Or read with a friend. Did you meet your goal for the week?
21	22	23	24	25	26	27
Set a goal for your reading this week.	As you read today, visualize what is happening in the story.	Read a nonfiction book about a topic you don't know about. Share what you learned.	Read a fiction book that has animals as the characters.	Read a nonfiction book about a topic you know about. What new information did you learn?	Read a book you have never read before. Do you see similarities to your life in the story?	Read your favorite book to someone or your favorite stuffed animal. Did you make your goal for the week?
28	29	30	31
Set a goal for your reading this week.	Read a nonfiction book. Find two different text features in the book.	What did you wonder as you were reading today? Share it with someone.	Read a story and retell it to yourself or to someone in your family.			