12/10/20 10:00am – 12:00pm	Building a Sustainable School Community Partnership and Program Despite the unique challenges presented by the COVID-19 pandemic, many community partners and schools are collaborating to support students and their families. What does it look like for us to build new relationships or strengthen existing ones to develop more equitable, sustainable partnerships? In this session we will share a framework for sustainability and identify applicable practices within relationship building, communication, documentation, partnership and program quality, and resource development. Participants will share strategies, assess their own partnerships, and take steps to draft a sustainability action plan.	Youth Development Executives of King County Contact: rmbursteinst@seattleschools.org	Site directors/supervisors, program leadership, and school administrators or school partnership leads Registration: www.seattleschools.org/communitypartnerships_register	Remote Workshop Link sent upon registering
1/19/21 10:00am – 12:00pm	More Than Being Calm: Exploring Mindfulness for Implicit Bias "Change begins with reflection, not deflection." - Dr. Chandra Gill Mindfulness is paying attention to the present moment with curiosity and compassion, and a step towards a shift in our hearts. Research shows that mindful awareness practices help us uncover our implicit bias and unconscious ideas, thoughts, and beliefs. Drawing on the work of Ruth King, author of Mindful of Race, as well as other teachers, we will explore mindfulness practices to uncover our unconscious biases and thoughts as a stepping-stone toward change and	Space Between Contact: rmbursteinst@seattleschools.org	Staff at all levels of youth-serving organizations Registration: www.seattleschools.org/communitypartnerships_register	Remote Workshop Link sent upon registering

2/25/21 10:00am-12:00pm	Speak with Purpose: Learning to Encourage, Affirm, and Celebrate Student Voice This workshop is designed for community partners who want to explore innovative methods for approaching student-led practices, activities and input. Together we will talk directly with students about what it means to be an independent learner and thinker. We will explore the techniques used in We.APP to encourage and inspire students to discover and embrace self-authored identities, student agency and collectivism.	We.APP Contact: rmbursteinst@seattleschools.org	Staff at all levels of youth-serving organizations Registration: www.seattleschools.org/communitypartnerships_register	Remote Workshop Link sent upon registering
3/24/21 10:00am-12:00pm	COVID, Anxiety, and the Developing Brain We have arrived at a new age of understanding the nuances of development from a biological and neurological perspective. In this session we will focus on brain and body development from a neurological perspective (nature); and how our experiences, thinking, and behaviors are additionally a product of what we are exposed to in the world around us (nurture). We will discuss information about anxiety overall in the childhood/adolescent brain, and specifically related to the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic. We will also share practices that lower anxiety	SPS Coordinated School Health Contact: rmbursteinst@seattleschools.org	Staff at all levels of youth-serving organizations Registration: www.seattleschools.org/communitypartnerships_register	Remote Workshop Link sent upon registering
