School Description & Plan to Achieve Goals

Jane Addams continues to use a range of structures to meet the needs of students, beginning with standards-based core instruction as well as additional classes/support to supplement core instruction in math and literacy, as well as specific intervention classes/programs that serve our students with the greatest needs. Our Math Department aligns all classes to Common Core State Standards. Students in need of additional support in their core class have access to an additional course, Math Empowerment, which uses pre-teaching strategies in order to support students. Our Language Arts Department aligns all classes to Common Core State Standards. Students in need of additional support in their core class have access to an additional course, Reading Empowerment, which uses the curriculum Read 180. Teacher leaders are at the core of our professional learning. Our Career Ladder team plans targeted professional learning for teachers in the differentiation of instruction. Professional Learning led by the Career Ladder team includes classroom visits, modeling of specific strategies and individual, embedded coaching of teachers. The Math, Social Studies, and Language Arts departments participate in Studio Residency Sessions for instructional improvement funded through the Families in Education levy, our math and Language Arts teacher leaders have a release period for embedded coaching of teachers. Our school-based equity team provides training throughout the year.
