

1. Please explain why you are interested in serving on the BEX/BTA Capital Projects Oversight Committee.
2. Please describe your familiarity with capital programs components, such as planning, budgeting, cost estimating and controls, organization and management of public agency capital programs, and public and media relations skills.
3. Please describe any perspectives or experiences you could bring to the BEX/BTA Capital Projects Oversight Committee, such as cultural, racial, socio-economical, etc., which promote a diverse range of perspectives.
4. Please describe your personal/professional connection with capital construction projects or any other information you would like to share. Describe how that may contribute to the success of the work of the BEX/BTA Capital Programs Oversight Committee.

5. Selection Process: The BEX/BTA Capital Programs Oversight Committee Charter requires members not have any direct or indirect financial interest (except a “remote interest” as defined by RCW 42.23.040), in any contract, purchase of materials, or activity financed from school district funds. Members shall not participate in any action involving a matter in which the individual has a remote interest as defined by state law, nor shall any member seek to influence any other member of the committee or district staff with respect to any such matter. All direct and indirect financial interests, including remote interests, shall be disclosed in writing to the district promptly upon the member’s discovery of the interest.

Do you have any potential conflicts of interest relating to capital construction projects in Seattle Public Schools?
